RESEARCH AND TRAVEL:

Research on the development of the "new town movement" in the United States and Europe was begun during a sabbatical leave from the University of Oklahoma. Since that time, the new towns visited in the United States and Europe are:

United States:

Columbia, Maryland
Foster City, California
Greenbelt, Maryland
Greendale, Wisconsin
Greenhills, Ohio
Irving, California
Marimont, Ohio
Radburn, New Jersey
Reston, Virginia
Westlake, California

Europe:

Cergy-Pontoise, France
Cumbernaugh, Scotland
East Kilbriht, Scotland
Farsta, Sweden
Vallingby, Sweden
Letchworth, England
Welwyn Garden, England
Stevenage, England

The development history and other data have been collected concerning these new towns as well as 1600 colored slides that are used as instructional aids. In addition to the new towns slide collection, a second and larger slide collection has been developed recording urban design impressions of major cities visited throughout the world. This collection is comprised of approximately 4800 slides and includes many major cities of the US and world:
